
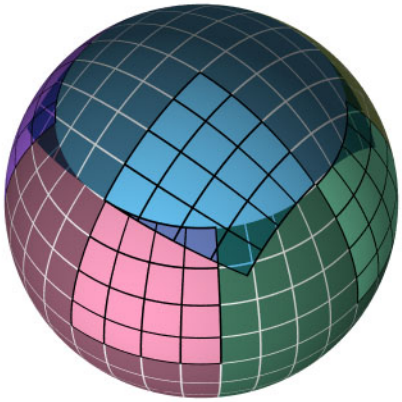

Plate 4: This figure illustrates how the sample points associated with each primary view map to the sampling sphere. Each color represents a primary view with quadrant 0 highlighted. The intersections of the grid lines give the sample points for a four-level delta tree.

Plate 5: This scene was composed by reprojecting the delta trees of its six components.

Plate 6: A compound object reprojected by warping views from a single delta tree.